

Basel Alashi

Dr. Basel Alashi joined CBIE in August 2006 as Director of International Partnerships. With more than ten years of international experience, Dr. Alashi's areas of expertise include international relations, program development, project management, institutional capacity-building, international business, procurement and local governance. Dr. Alashi's most recent experience before joining CBIE was with UNDP Bosnia and Herzegovina as governance adviser. He has had a rewarding career managing a wide range of international projects funded by international organizations such as the World Bank, USAID, European Commission and Agence française de développement. Dr. Alashi holds a Ph.D. Degree in Economics from the Université de la Méditerranée Aix-Marseille II, and a Master's of International Business from the Institut Supérieur de Commerce International de Dunkerque, France. He is fluent in English, French and Arabic.